Norwegian quality since 1854

Möller's makes no compromises when it comes to quality. The cod liver oil used as a raw material is sourced from fresh wild Arctic cod, responsibly caught in the pure, cold waters of the Arctic coast.

Möller's has been providing premium products for the health of the whole family since 1854, when Norwegian pharmacist Peter Möller revolutionised the production of cod liver oil.

His innovation in the extraction process – the steam extraction method – is still used today. The oil obtained through this method is significantly purer, preserving the natural properties of the Omega-3 fatty acids and vitamins D and E.

Möller's helps maintain health and supports the immune system with every capsule!
